

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

HENRY R. PLOMER.

LONDON:

PRINTED FOR THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

By BLADES, EAST & BLADES.

FEBRUARY, 1903.

List of the Society's Publications.

THE BOOKS printed by the Bibliographical Society can only be supplied to its own members, but new members may purchase the publications of previous years, and members who have lost or damaged any of their books can obtain a second copy at the prices named. But where an asterisk is prefixed, the books can only be supplied in sets, and in no case can more than one duplicate copy of any book be supplied to the same member. Subject to this condition purchase for presentation is also allowed, but the Council retains the right of refusing any application, without necessarily assigning a reason.

A few extra copies have been struck off of Mr. Reed's "List of Books and Papers on Printers and Printing" (Transactions, Vol. 3), and of Mr. Gray's "William Pickering" (Transactions, Vol. 4). Price, in each case, 2s. 6d. Extra copies of individual papers have also been printed for presentation to their authors, and, in the case of Mr. Hyett's "Rules for County Bibliographies," for gratuitous distribution. But neither these extra copies, nor the News Sheets—everything of interest in which is reprinted in the Transactions—are reckoned as necessary to a complete set of the Society's Publications.

WILLS OF ENGLISH PRINTERS AND STATIONERS.

HENRY R. PLOMER.

of the City of London, is too well-known to need more than mention, while a third most valuable work is the Index to the Wills in the Court of the Chancellor of the University of Oxford, compiled by the Rev. John Griffiths.

With such aids as these it has become possible to bring together a collection of abstracts from the wills of English stationers on a larger scale than has ever been attempted before. The bulk of those now presented to the reader in this volume deal with the stationers of London, and are to be found in the Registers of the Prerogative Court of Canterbury and of the Commissary of London at Somerset House, only one being found in Dr. Sharpe's Calendar of the wills in the Court of Hustings. The Oxford stationers whose wills are noted in Mr. Griffiths' Index have been added as an Appendix.

The reason why abstracts are given in preference to copies of the wills is, first of all, space. Even the shortest of these documents is framed in legal words, which become monotonous with constant repetition, and are of no value from the literary standpoint. Nor, from the point of view of interest, was anything to be gained by printing the wills as a whole. Not even the importance of the testator as a member of the Company of Stationers, and still less the length of the will, is any guarantee that it will be of interest; indeed, very often the reverse is the case. For instance, the will of John Sedley, stationer, covers seven closely written folio pages, but there is not a word of reference to his business, and the names met with in it have no bearing on the history of printing or bookselling. Again, in the will of Ralph Howell, stationer, who died in 1603, out of two pages, one and a half consists of an expression of his religious belief. No good end would have been served by printing these in full, while the bulk of the volume would have been greatly increased.

The object kept in view in this compilation has been to illustrate, as far as possible, the history of printing and bookselling, and the plan followed has been to give the date of the making of the will, the place of burial, the bequests, the names of the executors, overseers and witnesses, and the date upon which the will was proved. All names, both of persons and places, have been inserted as means of further reference. One never knows where information may not be found, and even female names, as one or two instances in this volume show, may be followed up with advantage.

Not only do the wills of Lucy Reynes, widow of John Reynes, of Joan Wolfe, widow of Reginald Wolfe, and of Elizabeth Toye, widow of Robert Toye, supplement the information given in the wills of their husbands, but the will of Joan Wolfe is a much more interesting and valuable record.

The more important bequests, such as those left to the Stationers' Company, or which serve to throw light on the customs of the printing and bookselling trades, have been given in the words used by the testators.

The bulk of these wills are those of booksellers. Nor is this surprising. In the first place, the booksellers greatly outnumbered the printers. In the second place, while in the early days of the art of printing, the printers were men of good social position, as witness the cases of Caxton, John Rastell, John Day, Richard Grafton, and Richard Tottell, the growth of the monopolies, and the fierce trade competition quickly altered this state of things, with the result that before the end of the sixteenth century we find a larger number of poor men, such as Andrew Hester, who left the little he had to his widow, or John Wayland, who left nothing but "desperate debts." In many cases they made no wills, administration of their effects being granted to the next of kin. There is another reason that may account for the absence of wills of such important men as John Day, John Cawood, and Richard Grafton. They may have died elsewhere than in London, and their wills may be lying in some country registry. For instance, John Cawood, we know, was a native of Yorkshire, and it is quite possible that he may have returned there shortly before his death, and the same remark applies to Richard Grafton, who was a Shropshire man.

Another subject for regret is the barrenness of these wills as regards details of the implements and stock-in-trade of these printers and booksellers. This is due to the custom prevalent in the City of London, which ordained that its freemen who were married should divide their goods and chattels into three parts, one of which was to go to the wife, the second to the children, while the third might be retained by the testator to dispose in legacies. Implements, household goods and stock-in-trade, were of course goods and chattels, and accordingly the printers and booksellers were content to word their wills in that way, hence so few particulars are found concerning their presses, etc. The loss would not be so great if we had the inventories which were bound to be lodged in the Court of Orphans by the executors of the deceased, but none of these are in existence before 1666. It is rarely that we find a will of a London man so interesting in this respect as that of Thomas Vautrollier.

No such custom prevailed outside London, and for this reason the wills of the country printers and booksellers are often most interesting, while the inventories attached to them furnish curious and valuable notes as to their stock and implements.

The chief points illustrated by these abstracts are (1) The close association of the printers and booksellers as a guild or brotherhood. Not only did they intermarry, and every printer's widow become a rich matrimonial prize that gave rise to keen rivalry, but they acted as executors, overseers and witnesses to each others' wills. (2) The great wealth of the Stationers' Company, as shown by the bequests they received. (3) The light thrown on the biography of individual printers and booksellers, and the history of the book trade generally. Take for example the will of John Reynes, with its reference to the custom of the book trade, or that of Joan Wolfe with its topographical details of the tenants of St. Paul's Churchyard, and its reference to Holinshed's "Chronicle," or again, that of Thomas Vautrollier, which dispels once for all the romantic story of the apprentice who married his master's daughter, the truth being that the master had no daughter, and that the servant seized the opportunity of securing a good business before anyone else had a chance, by marrying his master's widow. These abstracts show us yet another way in which a printer or bookseller could get a start, viz., by the generosity of his master. Such an instance occurs in the case of Nicholas Bourne, to whom his master, Cuthbert Burby, left his business on the most favourable terms, and also gave him the lease of the shop in the Royal Exchange, "in respect of his true and faithfull service."

INTRODUCTION.

It is hardly necessary to point out how these wills help us in determining the period during which certain men were at work, but in regard to dates a word of warning is necessary. Down to the year 17⁵⁰/₈₁ the legal year began on the 25th March and ended on the 24th March, so that a will proved on February 19th, 1520, would in reality date from February 19th, 1521. This overlapping of the civil and legal dates is a fruitful source of error.

A list of the less important wills, abstracts of which are not given, and of those which have already appeared in print, with references to the books where such wills are to be found, has been added as an appendix.

ABSTRACTS FROM THE WILLS OF ENGLISH PRINTERS AND
STATIONERS, FROM 1492 TO 1630.

JOHN RUE¹ [Bookseller].

St. Paul's Churchyard.

Succeeded by A. Rue, or Ruwe.

Dated 23rd December, 1492. Proved 15th January, 1493.

Testator described as of Frankfort. To be buried in Pardon churchyard.

BEQUEST: To Andrew Rue, his brother.

EXECUTORS: The Secretary to the German Merchants of the Hanseatic League and "magistrum [] impressorem librorum de West".

WITNESSES: Gregory, curate of St. Faith's, Master John Petytt,² and Master Peter Martin. [P.C.C. 9. Dogett.]

(1). This is one of the earliest wills of a London bookseller. Rue was evidently in business with his brother, whose will is also in this series. The omission of the names of the printer at Westminster may be accounted for by the death of Caxton in 1491, and Rue's ignorance of his successor. Wynkyn de Worde's name is not found in any book before 1493. In this, and other instances where the name of an executor is given in Latin, the nominative case is here substituted for the accusative.

(2). See the will of Robert Toye in this volume, where mention is made of Master Petytt's house in the churchyard. Ames inclined to the belief that Thomas Petytt, who flourished between 1536-1555, was a relative of Jean Petit, of Paris.

GERARD WANSEFORD,

Of York.

Dated October 3rd, 1510. Proved 24th October, 1510.

Testator to be buried within the church of Sanct Margaret of Lenum Bishop, byfor the chapell of the Holy Trinite.¹

BEQUESTS: "Rauf Polan of York, goldsmith," goods. "my broder Frederik Wanseford," goods. "Richard Watterson of London, xls., to the which Richard Mr. Wynkyn de Word can inform yow." "Mr Wynkyn xls. which I howght hym." residue to executors, brother "Frederick Wanseford of Yowrk, Rauff Polan of York, and Mr Meyner Weywik of London."

WITNESS: "Mr John Whytyng, Master of the college of Lenum [Lynn], Sir Thomas Spicer, prest, and Luttkyn Smyth, the which Luttkyn I make supervisor." [R. Davies. Memoir of the York Press. Appendix A.]

(1). Davies explains this as referring to the Guild of the Holy Trinity at King's Lynn, Norfolk, where the testator died.

ANDREW RUWE, OR RUE¹ ["Stationarius"].

St. Paul's Churchyard.

Dated 10th October, 1517. Proved 24th November, 1517.

Testator to be buried in Pardon churchyard.

BEQUESTS: To Katherine Ruwe of Frankfort on the Maine, sister; Joanne Ruwe, wife; Katherine Ruwe, daughter. "Item lego presbitero meo Thomas Wallis prochiali sancte fidis, sermonum librum dormi secure ligatū, similitr domino David Owen eiusd.eccle, sermones quintini ligatos."

EXECUTORS: Simon Coston, notary public, John Renys,² Judocus Peregrim.³

WITNESSES: Thomas Wallis, David Owen.

[Comm. of London. 134. Bennett.]

(1). Brother of John Rue.

(2), (3). These seem to be intended for John Reynes and Judocus Pelgrim. If so, it is the earliest mention of the first.

RICHARD PYNSON (1493-1530),

Without Temple Bar, 1493-1501. Sign of St. George, next to St. Dunstan's Church, 1501-1530.

Succeeded by R. Redman.

Dated 15th November, 1529. Proved 18th February, 1529⁹.

Testator to be buried in the churchyard of St. Clement's without Temple Bar. Owned property in Chancery Lane and Tottenham (co. Middx.).

BEQUESTS: John Snowe and Richard Withers "shall serve their yeares at the assignment of my executrix. And at thende of their said yeres my said executrix to make them free of my craft. And the said John Snowe to have for his part 6s 8d. And the said Richard Wythers to have for his part 40s, paid to theym by thandes of myn executrix, yf the said John and Richard doo serve their yeres as true apprentices ought to doo." "Joane Pynson,¹ daughter of Richard Pynson, "late decessed," 10 li, with reversions to Amye and Joane Campyon, daughters of William Campion;² Margaret Warde, formerly Campion, daughter and executrix.

OVERSEER: Robert Chidley, gentleman.

WITNESSES: Matthew Saunders, curate of St. Dunstan's, Christopher Chillorne, Richard Dawson.

[P.C.C. 15. Jankyn.]

(1). In the records of the City of London (Repertory 9, p. 387) she received permission to marry on 17th April, 28 Henry VIII. The Richard Pynson "late decessed" was doubtless a son of the testator.

(2). There were several Campions stationers in the reign of Henry VIII.

WYNANDUS DE WORDE¹ (1493-1534),

(JAN VAN WYNKYN),

In Caxton's house, 1493-1500. "Sun," in Fleet Street, 1500-1534.

Succeeded by John Byddell and James Gaver.

Dated 5th June, 1534. Proved 19th January, 1534⁴.

Testator to be buried in the church of St. Bride, Fleet Street, before the altar of St. Katherine.

BEQUESTS to Agnes Tidder, widow, and John Lyñen, three pounds apiece; Robert Darby, "my servant the value of three poundes sterling in printed books"; Robert Maas, "my servant, the value of xls. sterling in books"; John Barbanson, "my servant the value of xls. sterling in printed books"; Hectour, "my servant v. marks sterling in books;" Simon, "my servant the value of xx.s. in books." John Wislyn "my servant the value of xx.s. in books." "To Nowell² the bokebinder in shoo lane the value of xx.s. sterling in books." Hercules Diricke, "pouchmaker's sonne tenne poundes." "To every of myn apprentices three poundes sterling apece in printed books." John Butler "late my servant, as many printed books as shall amounte to the value of vi^{li} sterling." James Gaver, "late my servant, for his labour in executing of this my present testament and last will, as many printed books as shall amounte to the some of twenty marks sterling." 'I remitte and forgive John Bedill citizen & stacioner of London late my servante for his labour in executing the same my said testament and last will, all such monney and dettes as he owith me, which James Gaver and John Bedill I make myne executours of this my present testament & last will." "And of th[e]ouersight and execution of this my present testament and last will I make and ordeyne Henry Pepwell³ John Gowgh⁴ and Robert Copland⁵ Stacioners / and I bequeathe to the same Henry for his labour as many printed bookes as shall amount to the value of foure poundes sterling./ And I remytte and forgive vnto the said John Gowgh for his labour all suche monney and debtes as he owith me and besides that I geve and bequeathe vnto him as manny printed bookes as shall amounte to the value of foure poundes sterling / And I bequeathe to the said Robert Copland for his labour as manny printed bookes as shall amounte to the value of tenne markes sterling."

WITNESSES: Humphry Town curat; John Studd, Thomas Cooke, John Tournier.
[P.C.C. 22. Hogen.]

(1). Jan van Wynkyn must have been of great age at the time of his death. This may account for the absence of any mention of wife, sons, or any relatives, though it is known that a William Wynkyn applied to the Court of Common Council in the very year of De Worde's death, for admission as a freeman into the Company of Stationers.

- (2). See also the will of Edward Ylle in this volume.
- (3). Living at the "Holy Trinity" in St. Paul's Churchyard.
- (4). Living at the "Mermaid," next Paul's Gate.
- (5). Living at the "Rose Garland" in Fleet Street. This printer did a great deal of editorial work for Jan van Wynkyn, and published at least one book in partnership with him.

JOHN RASTELL (1516-1536).

South side of Paul's. Before the South door of Paul's. "Mermaid" at Paul's Gate next to Cheapside (1520-1536).

Dated 20th April, 1536. Proved 12th October, 1536.

BEQUESTS to Wife Elizabeth,¹ "my house in St. Martyns,² with my presse, notes and lres comprised in the same." Son John for the satisfaction of his grandames bequest £10. Daughter Jone, for the satisfaction of her aunts bequest £5. Son William,³ 40 shillings. "Maister Crumwell⁴ for his good counsell to be had after dethe to be paied as it may be received of the sale of my bookis, v. marks." "My Lord Chancellor⁵ for his lawfull favor, speddy iustice in my sutis that shalbe before hym to be paied of the sale of my said books xls." Thomas Wilson, "my servant over and besides his wages lyvery and borde after my deceas assone as my concordaunce and the table thereof is fynished and fayre written of hym to be printed, xxs."⁶ Katerine, "my servant," vjs. viij^d. Residue to executors. "And because I am moste in daunger to the kings grace by bondes and oders of his comyn lawe I make his grace and my poore neighbour Rauf Cressey myn executours not because he is able to matche w^t his moste noble grace but because he knoweth many secretts of my mind whiche be necessary for his grace to knowe, besechyng his grace to conside what I have had of his grace, and what iuste and true service I have doñ unto hym bothe in worde, dede, and thought / and if any man have reoported to his grace the contrary, I take it on my deathe it is vntruely reoported." "Also if it pleas the kingis grace not to medle, but to shewe his charitie and m̄cye vpon me, then I will that the residue of all my goodis and detts shall goo to Rauf Cressey my sole executor & to Elizabeth my poore wyf to be deuyded equally among them, bicaus the said Rauf Cressey shall take the payne to gather my detts and prosecute my lawfull sute and to keep my said servant as is aforesaid vnto the said concordance bee fayre written and the table to print, and also to print the said concordance and table to the pformance of this my last will."

OVERSEER: Sir Francis Bigot.

WITNESSES: John Goughe, Johane Smythe, James Spencer, and John Turner.

PROBATE: Ralf Cressey renounced probate, which was thereupon granted to Elizabeth, the widow, on the 12th October, 1536.

[P.C.C. 3. Crumwell.]

- (1). The sister of Sir Thomas More.
- (2). The "Mermaid," in Cheapside, "next Pauls Gate," was in the parish of St. Martin le Grand. Part of the premises were occupied by John Gough, bookseller.
- (3). William Rastell was born about 1508. After practising as a printer for some years he was admitted a student of Lincoln's Inn in 1532, and gradually rose in his profession until, in 1558, he was made a Justice of the Queen's Bench. He died in Louvain on 27th August, 1565.
- (4). Thomas Cromwell, made Chancellor of the Exchequer 1533; Master of the Rolls 1534; Vicar-General 1535; Earl of Essex 1540, and beheaded the same year.
- (5). Sir Thomas Audley.
- (6). It is not clear what work is referred to in this statement, and nothing with such a title can be traced.

JOHN REYNES.

The George, St. Paul's Churchyard (1527?-1544.)

Succeeded by Lucy Reynes, widow (q.v.).

Dated 8th April, 33 Henry VIII (1542). Proved 26th February, 1544.

There is a list of minor bequests placed just before the probate. Mention is made of "Reyner Woolf's child."

(1). As John Cawood, the eminent stationer, is several times mentioned in this volume, and no will of his has been found, the following brief note of his career may be useful. He came of a Yorkshire family, was born in 1514, and apprenticed to John Reynes. He was Warden of the Company in the years 1554, 1555-7, and was Master in 1561, 1562, and 1566. Cawood was printer to Queen Mary, and in Elizabeth's reign was joined with Richard Jugge in the patent. He died April 1st, 1572. By his first wife he had three sons and four daughters. Two of his sons, John and Edmund, died in 1570, and the third, Gabriell, succeeded to the business. His daughter, Mary, married George Bishop, printer (q.v.). Isabel married T. Woodcock, stationer; Susannah married Robert Bullock, and Barbara married Mark Norton.

EXECUTRIX : Wife Marjery.

WITNESSES : Edward Freburne of London, haberdasher, Robert Glamvyle of Colchester, surgeon, Thomas Lathbroke and others.

[P.C.C. 35. Wrastley.]

(1). See his will in this volume. They had an only son, Bonham Norton, who became a wealthy member of the Stationers' Company.

EDWARD WHITCHURCH (Citizen and Haberdasher) (1538-1562).

Partner with R. Grafton in the Greyfriars.

Alone. The Sun, over against the Conduit, Fleet Street.

Dated 25th November, 1562 ; Proved 3rd December, 1562.

Place of burial not stated.

BEQUESTS : To Margaret "my well beloved wife,"¹ her interest in Kirkstall Abbey (co. Yorks,) and leases in Camberwell (co. Midd.). Edward "my sonne, my sealing ring to be delivered at his age of xxj yeres." (also his rightful share of the estate). Thomas Cranmer "my sonne." (? stepson) "one ringe of golde." Helen Harryson "my daughter," portion of one hundred marks. Margaret Norton, "my daughter" a ring. Elizabeth "my daughter shalbe allowed her portion as the rest of my children are." "wife's daughter" not named. "my sister Moning" one ring. "Fraunces my daughter's son," a piece of plate. Edward Scott "my friend, v marks of the xx nobles he oweth me." Thomas Broke the elder, remission of debt. "one Henly of Kent," a creditor.

(1). "Whitchurch married after 1556, the widow of Archbishop Cranmer, she was Margaret, niece of Oriander, pastor of Nuremburg. She survived Whitchurch, and married on the 29th November, 1564, a third husband, Bartholomew Scott, of Camberwell, justice of the Peace for Surrey."—Narratives of the Reformation. Camd. Soc., p. 244.

(2). The author of "Gorbuduc" and counsel for the Company of Stationers, son in law of the testator. The reference to "wife's daughter," as distinct from "my daughter" is somewhat puzzling, but as the testator goes on to point out that he has made a good marriage for her, he was probably referring to Margaret, the wife of Thomas Norton.

ELIZABETH TOYE, WIDOW OF ROBERT TOYE (q.v.) (1556-1565).

"The Bell," St. Paul's Churchyard.

Dated 12th March, 1564. Proved 6th July, 1565.

aungell of golde." "little Margaret Walker," various household articles "in the little chamber over John Cawoodes shoope, next to Pawles gate." Residue to Humphrey Toye "my sonne."

OVERSEERS: Brother Thomas Woodall and John Cawood.

WITNESSES: Richard Iugge, John Cooke, Thomas Bedford, serjeant, Anthony Bande, scrivener. [P.C.C. 24. Morrison.]

(1). Admitted freeman 16th April, 1562. Was one of the deputies to Christopher Barker. Master of the Company six times, i.e. in 1590, 1592, 1593, 1600, 1602, 1608. Died in 1610. See his will in this volume.

(2). Doubtless a relative of John Awdeley stationer. He does not appear to have taken up his freedom.

(3). See his will in this volume. Was no doubt one of the sons of Harry or Henry Pepwell of the Trinity in St. Paul's Churchyard.

(4). Perhaps one of the sons of Arthur Pepwell (q.v.).

ARTHUR PEPWELL¹ (? 1566-1568).

[? Sign of the Holy Trinity, St. Paul's Churchyard].

Dated 17th August, 1568. Proved 15th January, 1568³.

BEQUESTS: To Johane, "my wife," a third part of goods. Henry and Humphrie, sons, a third part of goods, "and if the survivor of my said sonnes do happen to departe this present life, before he accomlishe the said age of xxi yeres, then I will that one hundredth pounds of lawfull englisshe money of the porçons of my said sonnes shalbe delivered unto the company of Stacioners of London with them to remayne for ever and to be lent oute from ij yeres to ij years for ever to fyve suche persons being younge men of the same companye as shall have most nede of the occupieng thereof from tyme to tyme, the same fyve young men to have every one of them an equal parte of the same and every one of them to put in sufficient sureties for the repayment of his part at every two yeres ende then to be lent to other of the said company that that shall have more nede of the same, and every of them paieng for the occupieng thereof tenne shillings a pece yerelie and no more, which amounteth to the some of fifty shillings yeralie, which fiftie shillings shalbe paied and distributed yerelie to the pore of the said company for ever." A further third part of his goods he allotted to the following:—"Poore of St. Faiths fortie shillings to be distributed in bread, which fortie shillings I will shalbe of the rents and proffitts of my tenements in paternoster row." Maister Bedell the preacher xxvj s. viij d. for two sermons. Julian Stevenson "my suster" six pounds. Leonard Chambers "wife's brother," student in Trinity Coll. Cambridge, four pounds. "aunt Adams," "sister Newman," "aunt Turner," and "aunt Raynes," to each a black cassock. William Browne "my apprentice," x s., "and I will that the said William Browne shalbe clerelie discharged and made free from the two last yeres of his apprenticeship."

EXECUTRIX: wife Johane to whom the testator devised the residue of his estate.

OVERSEERS: Reginal Wolfe; Humphrey Toye; William Norton; Gabriell Newman.

WITNESSES: Gabriell Newman and Richard Collins, servants to Andrew Palmer, scrivener. [P.C.C. 1. Sheffield.]

1. This stationer is entered in the Registers as taking up his freedom on the 19th August, 1556, and again on the 8th March, 1557. As Mr. Arber points out, this must be a mistake, as he presented William Taylor as an apprentice on the 6th May, 1557. [Arber's Transcript, Vol. I, pp. 35, 37, 43]. Arthur Pepwell was a very disorderly member of the Company, being repeatedly fined for keeping his shop open on Sundays, and giving the officers "unsemely wordes."

(2). Was this a relative of James Rowbotham? Under the Fines for 1562-3, Pepwell is found entered for two shillings "for that he ded kepe an apprentice which was Robothums."

(3). Elizabeth Toye in her will (q.v.) mentions Arthur Pepwell as her "son in law." The explanation is perhaps that his first wife, the daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Toye, was dead. This is strengthened by the absence of any mention of a daughter in Elizabeth Toye's will. This would also account for Humphrey Toye being nominated one of the overseers.

STEPHEN KEVALL¹ (? 1555-1570).

Lived in Billingsgate.

Succeeded by his widow, Jane Kevall.

Dated 28th October, 1570; Proved 20 April, 1571.

BEQUESTS: "I geve and bequeath and my will is that my house or tenement with thappurtenances which of late I have bought of one William Kelley citizen and butcher of London as appereth by certen writings thereof made, standinge and beinge nere the tenement that I nowe dwell in after the decease of my wife Jane Kevall shallbe given and distributed vnto the poore. That ys to say the one halfe and the profits thereof vnto the poore of the said parish of St. Mary at Hill for ever, and the other half of the said tenement and the profit thereof vnto the poore of my Company the Stacyoners of London for ever. But if it should fortune that my said wyfe Jane Kevall should have need and necessity before her decease That then in such case I will that the said Jane my wyfe shall and may sell all the said house or tenement with the appurtenances at her pleasure for his owne mayntenaunce and behoofe." "Vnto my said companie of Stacyoners of London towards a recreation," xxs. In the event of wife marrying again, but not otherwise, certain legacies were to be paid, amongst which were Margaret Kevall, sister. George Kevall, notary.

EXECUTRIX: wife Jane.

OVERSEERS: George Kevall and Hugh Woodcock.

WITNESSES: Richard Saunderson vintner and Hubard Sevyon notary.

[P.C.C. 17. Holney.]

(1). Master of the Company of Stationers, 1560, 1565. Except in his official capacity, his name never occurs in the registers, and so it happens that though he was a bookseller in London for some years, his name does not appear amongst the 887 names printed by Mr. Arber in his fifth volume. The following entries in the registers refer to his bequest:—

Abstract from the "accoumpte" of Richard Watkins and Frauncis Coldock wardens (1580-1581):—

[P.C.C. 32. Martyn.]

(1). No person of this name is anywhere mentioned in the Registers of the Company, but on the 17th of May, 1565, there is an entry recording the freedom of "Reginolde Wolfe the younger." I do not think this refers to the Robert Wolfe mentioned in the will, but to another son who had probably died in the interim.

(2). Mr. Arber mentions a person of this name as publishing in 1577 (Transcript, Vol. V, xcv.) but he has not traced any book, and I venture to think there is a mistake somewhere.

(3). The first edition of Holinshed's Chronicle appeared in 1577. He explains in his "Preface" that the work had grown to such magnitude that the executors of the will of Johan Wolfe were alarmed at the probable cost of printing the work, and it was decided to issue the smaller parts first. The work was printed by John Harrison the Elder.

(4). Shepperd evidently accepted this offer and printed from this address during the years 1576-1577, after which he disappears and no more is heard of the Brazen Serpent until 1581, when it is found in the hands of Richard Vernon.—Arber's Transcript, Vol. V, pp. 102-123.

(5). Then carrying on business at the White Greyhound in St. Paul's Churchyard.

(6). This was the chapel over the Charnel house on the N. side of the Cathedral which Reginalde Wolfe had purchased of the King, and from which he removed a thousand cartloads of bones. Stow says: "The Chappell and Charnel were converted into dwelling houses, warehouses and sheds for stationers, builded before it in place of the tombes."

(7). The sign of the "Crane."

(8). The sign of the "Green Dragon."

Among the archives of St. Paul's Cathedral is a document by which William Juxon, Bishop of London in 1638, demised to Elizabeth, relict of Thomas Adams, citizen and stationer of London, two messuages with three shops in the great churchyard of the cathedral church, on the north side of the church, "adjoyninge to a house there sometimes called the Charnell house on the east part," one of which messuages is known by the name of the sign of the Parrott and Angell and the other by the name of the sign of "the King's Heade" January 20. 13 Chas I. Hist. Mans. Comm., 9th Report, App. p. 521.

JOHN AWDELIE OR AWDLEY (1559?-1575).¹

OVERSEERS: Anthony Kitson draper, and Brian Dodmor gent.

WITNESSES: Thomas Uby, Robert right (sic) Robert Ivie.

[P.C.C. 35. Pickering.]

(1). The younger son of Sampson Awdelie, verger of Westminster Abbey, whose will was proved in the Commissary of London, 12th January, 1559.

RICHARD JUGGE (1547-1577).

Sign of the Bible in Paul's Churchyard till 1573, when he removed to Newgate Market next unto Christ's Church.

Succeeded by Miles Jennings.

Dated 17th August, 1577. Proved 23rd October, 1577.

BEQUESTS: To Johan "my wief" a third part of goods. Children (not named) unmarried, a third part. WITNESSES: Richo Collins, Scr., Richard Watkins, Nicholas Cowp[er].

[P.C.C. 40. Daughtrey.]

(1). William White was made free on the 10th April, 1583, by Mistres Iugge, and worked as a publisher from 1588 to 1623; Richard Reade was made free on the 18th January, 1580, and is found printing and publishing until 1603.—Arber's Transcript, Vol. 5, p. 261, etc.

ANTHONY KYTSON OR KITSON, Draper (1549-1578).

"Sun" in St. Paul's Churchyard.

Succeeded by his son Abraham Kitson.

Dated 5th September, 1577. Proved 12th July, 1578.

Testator to be buried in parish church of St. Faith beside his first wife Margaret.

BEQUESTS: To Abraham Kytson, "my eldest sonne," lands and tenements in St. Pauls Churchyard, Wood Street and Fleet Street, out of the revenues of which he was to pay legacies. Thomas Kytson, "my second sonne," remainder of above property and one hundred and forty pounds. Agnes "my daughter," reversion of above property. Ann Kytson "my daughter," one hundred pounds. John "my youngest sonne by Mary my last wife," twenty pounds. Sara, "my cosin," twenty pounds. Mr. Wight and wife,¹ Mr. Mills and wife,² Mr. Flaskett and wife,³ Mr. Wilson and wife,⁴ Mr. Veale and wife,⁵ cloth to each for a mourning gown. Roger and Gregory "my boyes, my apprentizes."

EXECUTOR: son Abraham.

OVERSEERS: Leonard Mills and Mr. Flaskett, citizen and haberdasher.

WITNESSES: Robert Wheathill, John Wyght, by me Thomas Kyttsn, by me Abraham Veale, by me Richard Rastall.⁶ [P.C.C. 31. Langley.]

Preceding the probate clause is entered a protest by Abraham Kitson, to the effect that the property in Fleet street, etc., was entailed to him, and that his father had no power to saddle them with the legacies, and therefore he refuses to carry out this part of his father's will.

(1). John Wyght, one of the witnesses to the will, also a draper and stationer, living at the sign of the "Rose" in St. Paul's Churchyard. See his will in this volume.

(2). Leonard Mills, who was appointed one of the overseers. It is not clear whether he was a stationer. His name only occurs once in Arber's Transcript (Vol. I, p. 445). Under "Rentes belonging to ye howse" is entered "Recevyd of Leonerd Mylles for a hole yeres Rent Due at our lady Day [25th March, 1571]. xxvjs. viii*d*."

(3). No doubt the same person who is styled "citizen and haberdasher" a few lines below. He was perhaps father of John Flaskett, stationer.

- (4). Several Wilsons occur in the Registers.
- (5). No doubt Abraham Veale, one of the witnesses, also a draper and stationer, who carried on business at the Lamb in St. Paul's Churchyard.
- (6). Was this a descendant of John and William Rastell?

JOHN WALEY OR WALLEY¹ (1546-1586).

The Harts Horn, Foster Lane.

Succeeded by his son Robert Walley.

Dated 8th December, 1585. Proved 28th April, 1586.

BEQUESTS: "To my poor scholler Thomas Hamond in Oxford five poundes a yere for foure yeres after the date hereof." Annys [i.e., Agnes] "my wife" residue of estate. Robert Walley "my sonne" reversion of residue, etc.² Henry Walley "my sonnes sonne." "To all my childrens children as they come to age three poundes a piece, to be paide out of my house in ffoster lane." Francis Nuberry,³ John Thomas my godson,⁴ and Mary Walley, to each a piece of plate. Henry Hammondes children, Henry, Robert and Lionell twenty shillings a piece. Dorothy Pister "my daughter Thamesius daughter." Thomas Gubbins, "my servante."

EXECUTRIX: wife Agnes.

OVERSEERS: Ralph Nuberry and John Thomas.

WITNESSES: Ralph Nuberry and John Thomas. [P.C.C. 21. Windsor.]

(1). This will is peculiar in many ways. The testator did not state the nature of his business, nor in what part of London he lived, nor the name of the Company to which he belonged.

(2). Robert Walley had been in business as a stationer since 1576, although he did not become a Freeman of the Company until 1585. As his place of business is unknown at that time, he was perhaps in partnership with his father.

(3). The son of Ralph Newberry, stationer.

(4). Mr. Arber only mentions one stationer of this name in his list of London publishers (Transcript, Vol. V, pp. lxxxi, etc.) and gives his period as 1637, but the John Thomas mentioned in this will was publishing according to the register (see Transcript, Vol. II, p. 111) in 1582. As he was not long out of his time, he may have been alive in 1637.

THOMAS VAUTROLIER (1566-1587).

Blackfriars.

Succeeded by his widow, Jacqueline, who afterwards married Richard Field.

Dated 10th July, 1587. Proved 22nd July, 1587.

Reversion of above bequests to brethren and sisters beyond the seas.

EXECUTORS: Bastien Bonfoy² and Frauncis Bonier³.

OVERSEER: James Duthit.

WITNESSES: Ascanius de Renyalme⁴ Peter Bonevall.

At the foot is this clause:—Ex Gallicam in Anglicam linguam conuersum et inuentu[m] substantialiter concordare per me Notarium subsignatu[m] Londini comorantem Actam Londini hoc die xix mensis Julij Año Dm̄ 1587. D. Le Blancq nots pubcus, 1587.

[Commissary of London, 1587. fol. 99 verso.]

(1.) It will be seen from this that Vautrollier had no daughter, and that the "Jaklin" whom R. Field married was the widow.

(2.) A featherdresser living in Blackfriars, d. 1594. His will is in the P.C.C. 8. Dixy.

(3.) See also the will of Astanius de Reinalme in this series.

(4.) See his will in this series.

JOHN JUDSON (1558-1590).

His place of business unknown.

Dated 4th May, 1588. Proved 18th March, 1588.

BEQUESTS: To Richard Judsonne "my sonne." Thomas Judsonne "my sonne."¹ Alice Judson "my wellbeloved wife my stock of money which is in the handes of the Stationers for partnershippe, either to receive it, or the profit of it during the time of her natural life, and after her decease my will is that the saide stocke of money shall come to my sonne Thomas by the appointment of my foresaide wyfe." - (4). Was apprenticed on the 1st May, 1588, for nine years. Does not appear to have taken up his freedom.

JOHN WIGHT, Draper (1551-1589).

The Rose, St. Paul's Churchyard.

Succeeded by his son, Thomas Wight.

Dated 25th May, 1589. Proved 16th July, 1589.

Testator to be buried in St. Faith's.

BEQUESTS: "To Company of Drapers five poundes towards a diner." To the poor of Flamsted co. Herts, "twentie poundes." To the poor of Cuddington, co. Bedds. "five poundes." "fortie shillinges in money, to and amonge the pore men of the company of stationers in London." William Botheway cousin, "twentie poundes." Thomas Preston, cousin, house and "wicke" in Tyme Lane near Market Street, Flamsted. Michael Preston, cousin, house in parish of St. Michaels, in the town of St. Albans. Humfry Osmonde cousin. Alice Smith, "cousin, the millers wife of Redborne." "Gostwick's wife, twentie shillings." Grace Flaskett daughter of Thomas Flaskett,¹ sixty pounds. John Wilson, son of Henry Wilson, "sonne in lawe," for his better exhibition and maintenance at the University, "twelve poundes yearly for four years. Mistress Strange widow. To the poore of St. Faiths, "wheare I now dwell fortie shillings in money." "I do forgive Thomas Flaskett, my sonne in lawe, all that he doth owe vnto me (whiche is a good sum of money) so that he do discharge me, my executors and administrators of the bonds that I am bound in for him to one John Wouters the duche man." Katherine "my dawghter," wife to Thomas Flaskett. Anne Wilson "my dawghter, three tenements in Southwark, lately bought of Thomas Flaskett." Martha Mylls "my dawghter wife of Leonard Mylls, and her children (not named)."⁴

EXECUTOR: Thomas Wighte "my sonne."⁵

OVERSEER: Leonard Mylls, "sonne in lawe."

WITNESSES: Abraham Veale,⁶ William Young,⁷ Robert Androwes, scrivener.

On the 1st November, 1609, a commission was issued to Jocosa Wight, widow of Thomas Wight, to administer this will during the minority of Gabriel, Thomas and Lucy, natural children of Thomas Wight.

[P.C.C. 63. Leicester.]

(1). This was doubtless a relative of John Flaskett, stationer, who was publishing in London between 1594 and 1613.

(2). If this was one of his apprentices, he never came on the livery or took up the trade of a bookseller.

(3). "John Baylie sworne and admitted a freman of this companie by translation from the company of Drapers to this company accordinge to the orders of the citie." 25th June, 1600. Arber's Transcript, Vol. II, p. 726. On the next page we read that he was admitted by John Newbery, to whom perhaps he was transferred on the death of John Wight.

(4). In Arber's Transcript (Vol. I, p. 445) is the following entry "Recevyd of Leonard Mylles for a hole yeres Rent due at our Lady Day [25th March, 1571] xxvjs. viij*d*."

(5). There is no entry of his apprenticeship or freedom in the registers of the Stationers' Company. He published from 1590 to 1608.

(6). A member of the Drapers' Company who carried on business as a printer and publisher at the sign of the Lamb in St. Paul's Churchyard from 1548 to 1589.

(7). This was perhaps the publisher found in partnership with Ralph Jackson at this time.

WILLIAM NORTON (1561-1593).

King's Arms, St. Paul's Churchyard, afterwards the Queen's Arms.

Succeeded by his son, Bonham Norton.

Dated 27th August, 1593. Proved, 1st January, 1593⁴.

Testator to be buried in St. Faith's.

BEQUESTS: Goods etc., divided into three parts. Johan "my wel beloved wife," a third part.¹ Bonham Norton "my sonne" a third part.² "William

"John Norton, sonne of my sayed brother Edward twentie poundes" and to his other children four poundes a piece.³ Richard Norton, "sonne of my brother Richard Norton ten poundes over and above that somme of tenne poundes which I have of his in my handes." Alice Hewet, "sister in lawe, fortie shillings . . . and . . . to everie of her children . . . twentie shillings." "three score and sixe gownes of convenient clothe," to such poor freemen of the company of Stationers who attended his burial. "I give and bequeathe to so many schollers as have gonne out of Christ's Hospitall to either of the Vniversities of Oxon and Cambridge synce the yere of oure Lord god one thousand fyve hundred eightie twoe and shall follow their learninge and shall not be beneficed or otherwise promoted out of the universities at the tyme of my decease every of them bookes to the value of twentie shillings a peece suche as themselves shall best like of." "I bequeathe to the Liverie of the Companye of Stacyoners whereof I am a member towards a recreation or drinkinge to be had amongst them at their pleasure fortie shillings." "To every apprentise man servaunte and mayde servaunte within my howse which shall dwell with me at the tyme of my Decease fortie shillings a peece to be payed to the Apprentices at the severall endes of their apprenticeshippes and to the other menservauntes and maydeservauntes, when their severall covenantes shalbe expired." "I give and bequeathe vnto the parish of Cliffe in the Countie of Kent, the parishes of Onyburie, Cleoburie Mortimer, and Stotterden als Stotesden in the countie of Salop., the towne of Ludlowe in the same county, the parishe of Ludford nere the sayed towne of Ludlowe, the parishes of Sainct Mary Matfellow als Whitechappell and Sainct Leonardes in Bromley in the Countie of Midd and to the parishe of Saincte Sepulchre without Newgate of London, every of them fortie shillings a peece to be distributed at the discretion of myne overseers." "To the children of Laurence Melborne late of London cowper, deceased and the survivors and survivor of them all that my lease, righte, estate, terme of yeres and interest whiche I have in those tenementes and houses heretofore demised and letten vnto me by Richard Colwell scituate behinde S^{te} Nicholas Fleshe shambles in London, so allwayes as myne executor within one monethe next after my decease be fullie satisfied and contented of and for all somme and sommes of money to me due or to be due by the saied Laurence Melborne Margery his late wyfe and Edward Davyes Cowper or any of them." Residue to Bonham Norton "my sonne."

"I have already assured my Mannors, landes and tenementes in the county of Salop in suche sorte as that after my decease the same ys to remayne to my sonne Bonham Norton and to his heires for ever. And I do leave my messuages landes tenementes and hereditamentes in the counties of Midd and Kent to descend to him and other my heirs according to the lawes of this realme . . ." Lands called Grant's Alley, Beare Alley or Godfreys Alley "which I late purchased and bought of Oliver Godfrey gent." to the Governors of Christ's Hospital for ever subject to the payment out of the revenues of a sum of six pounds thirteen shillings and fourpence annually to the Master and Wardens of the Company of Stationers of which sum the Company was to lend six poundes to such young man or poor man of the Company as had need of it for three years and so on from three years to three years for ever. The balance thirteen shillings and fourpence was to be divided in the following way :—The Master of the Stationers company three shillings and fourpence, each of the two wardens three shillings and fourpence a piece and twenty pence a piece to the clerk and beadle of the company. A further sum of six pounds, thirteen shillings and fourpence annually, was to be paid to the churchwardens of the parish of Onybury co. Salop, and of this sum six pounds six shillings and eightpence was to be paid to the Schoolmaster or when there should not happen to be a schoolmaster, to be divided among the parents and inhabitants of the parish of Onybury, having children at school, the six and eightpence remaining over to be retained by the churchwardens. In the event of the buildings falling into decay, the Governors of Christ's Hospital were to rebuild them and in order to recoup themselves they were at liberty to stop paying these annuities for a certain time, etc., etc.

EXECUTOR: Bonham Norton.

OVERSEERS: Brother George Norton, "and my lovinge friend and neighbour Richard Watkynnes."⁴

WITNESSES: Richarde Wrighte scr., Edmond Wattes, John Hodgetts, Ralph Jackson, William Young. [P.C.C. 8. Dixy.]

(1). The daughter of William Bonham, stationer (q.v.)

(2). Bonham Norton was made free of the Stationers' Company on 4th February, 1593-4, and rapidly became one of the richest and most important men in the city of London, but his character as revealed in his dealings with Robert Barker and John Norton, was not a high one. He was in partnership for some time with John Norton, who made a will wholly in his favour. This will was afterwards disputed by John Norton's nephew, who declared that Bonham Norton exerted undue influence to procure it. Bonham Norton subsequently shared with Robert Barker the office of King's Printer, which he ultimately got into his own hands. He then took John Bill as partner. A long law suit resulted, the upshot of which was that Robert Barker recovered the office, and Bonham Norton was tried before the Star Chamber court for libelling the Lord Keeper, and condemned to fine and imprisonment. He died in 1635, but whether he was then in prison is not known. He left no will, administration of his estate being granted to his widow. Bonham Norton married Jane, the daughter of Thomas Owen of Condover, Shropshire, one of the judges of the Court of Common Pleas. He was Master of the Company in 1613, 1626, 1629.

(3). According to the entry in the Registers, the John Norton who became a stationer was the son of Richard Norton, of the parish of Billingsley, in the county of Salop. (Vol. II, p. 82). As John Norton in his will (q.v.) also mentions his brother Richard deceased, it is almost certain that the name John Norton here mentioned was not the stationer of that name, who was one of the sons of Richard Norton mentioned in the next paragraph. In any case, this will proves that John Norton the stationer was a nephew and not a cousin of William Norton, as stated by Mr. Arber.

(4). "Richard Watkins, stationer, was presented as an Apprentice in October, 1556, and was made free 27th April, 1557. He became Master of the Company in 1589 and 1594. He held with James Roberts the patent for printing almanacs. He is believed to have lived at the sign of Love and Death in St. Paul's Churchyard."—[Arber's Transcripts, Vol. I, p. 37 et. seq.]

RICHARD TOTTELL OR TOTHILL¹ (1552-1593).

Hand and Star in Fleet Street.

INQUISITION held at Buckingham in the County of Buckingham on the 21st March 36 Eliz (1594) before Walter Curzon. Ar. Peter Palmer ar. and Robert Spencer, ar. escheator of the county aforesaid by virtue of a commission from the king, etc., etc. The jury find that the said Richard Tottell was seized of the manor of Wedon Hill and divers lands in Wedon Hill, Chessham, Amersham, and Little Missenden, and of the manor or farm of Mantell or Mantells, with its appurtenances in Little Missenden aforesaid, and of divers lands and tenements situated in Wendover, And of the farm called Brasiers End with appurtenances in Cholsbury Bucklands in the said county of Bucks. As well as in the manor of Lapflod with appurtenances in Brideford [i.e. Bideford] co. Devon. And of a capital messuage called Greenlinch with appurtenances in Silverton in co. Devon and of divers houses and cellars in the town of Topsham in the said county of Devon. As well as of one messuage formerly divided in two, situated in Fleet Street formerly in the occupation of William Tothill, all which property he by virtue of an agreement made 29 August 34 Eliz. (1592) he made over to William Kindsly of London, and William Tothill for the use of William Tothill and his heirs for ever. Richard Tothill died 1st September 35 Eliz. (1593) at Wiston in co. Pembroke. The jury find that the lands in Wedon Hill and Amersham were held by Richard Tothill of Carye. Ar. as of his castle of Berkhamstead, in free socage. The land in little Missenden of Peter Palmer gen., by grant of Edward Earl of Oxford as part of his manor of Whitchurch in the aforesaid county of Bucks but for what service the jury could not say and that the residue of the manors of Wedon Hill, Chessham and Little Missenden were held by Richard Tothill of Milone Sands ar., as of his manor of Chessham Higham, in the said county, but for what service the jury were ignorant. The said manor of Wedon Hill, premises in Wedon Hill, Chessham, Amersham and Little Missenden were of a total value of 13*li* 6*s.* 8*d.* That the aforesaid manor of Mantells was held of the Queen for great serjeantry that is to say to act as naparius at her coronation and its value was about 5*li* a year. The lands and premises in Wendover were held of William Hawtry ar, as of his manor of Wendover in free socage, and its clear yearly value was 20 shillings. The farm of Brasiers End was also held for the performance of some service but the jury are unable to say what, its value was 20*s.* The Manor of Lapflod in co. Devon was held of Richard Champernowne. Its value was 33*s.* 4*d.* The capital messuage of Greenlinch was held of Richard Hales ar, as of his manor of Kenydon in co. Devon but for what service the jury could not say and its clear yearly value was 20s. The houses and cellars in Topsham were held of Anna Countess of Warwick as of her manor of Topsham in free socage and their clear yearly value was five shillings. The messuages in Fleet Street were held of the Queen for a part of a knights fee and were valued at four pounds per annum. The jurors finally say that William Tothill was son and heir of the said Richard Tothill and at the time of his death was aged thirty three years and upwards. [Ing. P. M. Eliz. Vol. 240. No. 18.]

(1.) As no will of this eminent printer can be traced, the above Inquisition, which shows the extent and whereabouts of his property, is substituted.

[P.C.C. 15. Weldon.]

(1). This stationer must have reached a great age at the time of his death. He was in business fifty-eight years, and allowing him to have set up for himself at the early age of twenty, this would make him seventy-eight when he died, and he was probably older.

(2). Better known as St. Michael ad Bladum, stood at the North-East end of Paternoster Row.

(3). See the will of Johan Wolfe, widow, in this series.

(4). The will of Johan Wolfe, widow, mentions Reginald Harrison sonne of the saide John Harrison, and he also had a son John, who died in 1604.

(5). Probably this is the same with the "Johan Harrison daughter of the saide John Harrison," also mentioned in the will of Johan Wolfe.

(6). These and the sum of five pounds given to the Stationers' Company, were the whole of John Harrison's charitable bequests.

(7). Better known as John Harrison the younger. He died in the following year. See his will in this series.

(8). Thomas Man, stationer, published from 1578 to 1624. Lived at the sign of the Talbot, in Paternoster Row. He was Master of the Stationers' Company in 1604, 1610, 1614, 1616.

(9). A stationer of this name took up his freedom in 1614. (See Arber's Transcript, Vol. III, p. 684.)

WITNESSES: George Miller, the marke of Anne Snelling, Hum. Dyson Notary Publiq, and of me Ro. Dickens sgeant unto the said Notary.⁴

[P.C.C. 107. Byrde.]

(1). Not Jaklin nor Jacqueline, which were the names the widow of T. Vautrollier was known by. At the same time Jane may have been a contraction. But it seems improbable that Vautrollier's widow was alive at this date. How long she had been married to her first husband there is nothing to show, but limiting it to ten years, and allowing her to have been married at the early age of fifteen, this date would make her between sixty and seventy years of age at the least.

(2). Two of the sons of Thomas Vautrollier (q.v.).

(3). "George Myller sonne of George Myller of Ketteringe in the county of Northampton Scholemaster, hathe putt him selfe an apprentice to Richard ffield Citizen and Stationer of London for the terme of seven yeres from Michaelmas next [29th September] 1604." [Arber's Transcript, Vol. II, p. 281.] He was publishing from 1618 to 1640, perhaps later.

(4). This is the only will in this series enrolled on the Hustings Rolls of the City of London.

Codicil dated 5th of May leaving reversion of bequest to son John to other sons, etc. etc. "Item I give and bequeath more to my loveinge wife Jane Bill, the three hundred and twentie pounds which I have in the English stocke with the company of Stationers."

WITNESSES: William Gough, William Garret.

[P.C.C. 44. Scroope.]

- (1). A stationer of this name was publishing between 1622 and 1640.
 - (2). Partner with Bill in the King's printing office between 1615 to 1619, and again between 1620 and 1629.
 - (3). The King's Printer, partner with Bill between 1616 and 1617, and again between 1629 and 1630.
 - (4). Martin Lucas and Robert Barker were fined £300 in 1632 for printing the "Wicked" Bible. As a matter of fact Martin Lucas was not a printer, and had nothing to do with the matter except as executor for John Bill.

List of the Society's Publications.

THE BOOKS printed by the Bibliographical Society can only be supplied to its own members, but new members may purchase the publications of previous years, and members who have lost or damaged any of their books can obtain a second copy at the prices named. But where an asterisk is prefixed, the books can only be supplied in sets, and in no case can more than one duplicate copy of any book be supplied to the same member. Subject to this condition purchase for presentation is also allowed, but the Council retains the right of refusing any application, without necessarily assigning a reason.

A few extra copies have been struck off of Mr. Reed's "List of Books and Papers on Printers and Printing" (Transactions, Vol. 3), and of Mr. Gray's "William Pickering" (Transactions, Vol. 4). Prior, in each case, 2s. 6d. Extra copies of individual papers have also been printed for presentation to their authors, and, in the case of Mr. Hyett's "Rules for County Bibliographies," for gratuitous distribution. But neither these extra copies, nor the New Sheets—everything of interest in which is reprinted in the Transactions—are reckoned as necessary to a complete set of the Society's Publications.

FIRST SERIES.

[Sm. 4to. Grey wrappers. Printed by Blades, East & Blades.]

Transactions of the Bibliographical Society. Vols. I-VII. London: Printed for the Society, etc. 1893-1903.

With the exception of Volume IV, each volume was issued in two sections. The first section of Vol. I was called "Parts 1 and 2," the second section, "Part 3." In other volumes the sections were called Part I, Part II, respectively on the wrapper, and Part I had also a temporary title-page, while that to Part II covered the whole volume. In Volume VI the title-page to Part II was inadvertently made to refer to that Part only instead of to the whole volume, and an additional title-page was afterwards sent out. Volumes I and II are sold only in complete sets. Prices:—Volume I, Part III, 3s. 6d.; Volume III, Part I, 7s.; Part II, 3s. 6d.; Volume IV, 10s. 6d.; Volume V, Part I, 6s., Part II, 4s. 6d.; Volume VI, Part I, 5s. 6d., part II, 5s.; Vol. VII, 10s. 6d.

R U L E S .

1. The Society shall be called "THE BIBLIOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY."
2. The objects of the Society shall be :—
 - (a.) The acquisition of information upon subjects connected with Bibliography.
 - (b.) The promotion and encouragement of Bibliographical studies and researches.
 - (c.) The printing of works connected with Bibliography.
 - (d.) The formation of a Bibliographical Library.
3. The Society shall be governed by a Council, consisting of a President, not less than three Vice-Presidents (exclusive of any who, having filled the office of President, shall be deemed Vice-Presidents), an Hon. Treasurer, Hon. Secretary, and not more than twelve other Members, to be elected annually at the Annual General Meeting of the Society.
4. On a vacancy occurring in the office of President, or other office of the Society, or in the Council, the Council shall have the power to fill such vacancy until the following Annual Meeting.
5. Candidates for membership shall be proposed by a Member, seconded by another Member, and submitted to the Council for election.
6. The Annual Subscription shall be One Guinea, payable in advance, and shall be due on each January 1st. The Society shall consist of not more than 300 Members from the British Empire and the United States of America, but the Council shall have the power to elect (i) not more than 25 British or American Candidate-Members from whom vacancies may be filled up as they occur, and who in the meantime, on payment of the Entrance Fee and Subscription, shall possess all the privileges of Members, except those of voting at the meetings of the Society, and holding office ; and (ii) any Foreign Libraries or Bibliographers whose membership will be advantageous to the Society. The amount of the Entrance Fee shall be fixed from time to time by the Council.* A payment of Twelve Guineas, in addition to the Entrance Fee (if payable), shall entitle a Member to become a Life Member. Libraries and Public Institutions shall be eligible for membership of the Society on payment of the Annual Subscription, but shall not be entitled to compound. Such Institutions, as represented by their Principal Librarian, or other authorized official, shall possess all the privileges of an Ordinary Member.

7. Members whose subscriptions are in arrear for more than two years shall be removed from the Society's roll, but may be reinstated by the Council at their discretion. The Council, however, shall have the power to remove a defaulting Member at any period after his subscription has been in arrear six months.

8. Members shall be entitled to receive all the ordinary issues of the Society ; and they shall also be entitled to receive all special issues of the Society at such subscription price as may be determined by the Council. The issues of the Society shall not be supplied to Members whose subscriptions are in arrear.

9. The Council shall appoint any persons they think fit to be salaried officers or clerks for carrying on the necessary concerns of the Society, and shall define the duties to be performed by them respectively, and shall allow to them respectively such salaries, gratuities and privileges as the Council may deem proper, and may suspend or discharge any such officer or clerk from office whenever there shall seem to them occasion for so doing. The Council shall also have the power of purchasing books for the Library of the Society, and of drawing up Rules under which they may be made available for the use of Members.

10. The Society shall meet, at such time and place as the Council may from time to time determine, for the purpose of hearing some paper or papers upon matters connected with the objects and purposes of the Society. Such papers may afterwards be printed in the Transactions of the Society according to the discretion of the Council.

11. Each Member shall be entitled to introduce one visitor at any of the Ordinary Meetings of the Society.

* The Entrance Fee is at present One Guinea, but new Members are presented with books to about the same value from the Society's publications.

RULES.

12. The Annual General Meeting of the Society, to receive the Report and Balance Sheet, to elect Officers, Council, and Auditors, and to consider amendments to the Rules, of which due notice shall have been given, shall be held at such time and place as the Council may determine.

13. The Council shall lay before the Annual Meeting an account of the receipts and disbursements, assets and liabilities, duly audited and made up to within not more than three months of the date of the Meeting. This account, with the Report of the Council, shall be circulated with the notice of the Meeting. The Rules, as confirmed or amended, together with a list of Members, shall be printed and distributed.

14. Two Auditors shall be appointed annually by the Society at the Annual General Meeting.

15. The Rules shall not be altered except at the Annual General Meeting of the Society, or at an Extraordinary Meeting specially summoned by the Council, or upon the signed requisition of ten Members of the Society, for that purpose. Notice of any proposed alteration of the Rules shall be made in writing and sent to the Secretary not less than one month preceding the meeting at which it is to be proposed.

MEMORANDUM.

1. Papers read before the Society are printed in its Transactions either in full or in epitome, as the Council decides. In the absence of any arrangement to the contrary, the reading of a paper before the Society pledges the Author to permit the Society to print it, and to give the Society all necessary help to enable it to do so.

2. Authors of papers retain the copyright in them, but when the Society desires to print a paper in full, the Author should not himself print it, or permit anyone else to do so, within two years of the date of its issue to Members.

3. The Society bears all the costs of printing and illustrating papers, and repays to the Authors any expenses incurred in preparing them, but the consent of the Council, or of the Hon. Secretary acting on its behalf, must first be obtained in the case of papers printed in the Transactions to the expenditure by the Author of any sum in excess of Five Guineas, and in the case of papers printed as Illustrated Monographs to any expenditure in excess of Ten Guineas.

4. Twenty copies of any paper printed by the Society are presented to the Author.
